

Name _____

Date _____

Non-Fiction Report Rubric

	4	3	2	1
Clear Ideas	The report has one clear topic. All of the information in the report is about that topic.	The report has a clear topic. Most of the information in the report is about the topic.	The report has a topic, but a lot of the information does not connect to the topic.	The report has no topic.
Development of Ideas	The report has a lot of information about the topic. The report is full of lots of interesting details.	The report has a lot of information and many details. Some ideas don't have enough details to make it clear and interesting.	The report has quite a bit of information but few details.	The report does not have a lot of information.
Organization	The report has an introduction, pages that each focus on one smaller idea, and a conclusion.	The report has an introduction and conclusion, and many pages of smaller ideas, but some of the ideas may be mixed together.	The report may be missing an introduction or conclusion. The ideas are very mixed together.	The report has no introduction, or conclusion, and it is very disorganized.
Spelling, Grammar, and Punctuation	All spelling, grammar, capitalization and punctuation are perfect.	All sight words are spelled correctly, and there are capital letters and punctuation for all sentences. There may be some misspelled words or grammar mistakes.	There are many mistakes in spelling, grammar, punctuation, and capitalization.	There are so many errors that the report is impossible to read and understand.
Accuracy	All of the information is correct and accurate.	Most of the information is correct with one or two mistakes.	There are three or more mistakes in the information.	The report is full of incorrect information and mistakes.